"The Meal Fights Hunger"

Campaign relies on the generosity of our donors. All money raised is used to package our meals at a cost of approximately $0.12, which covers 75% of the cost of the meal. We rely on outside contributions to makeup the shortfall. The Carnegie-Collier Rotary is a 501(c)3 tax-exempt non-profit organization

There are NO administrative charges. 100% of all money raised goes to pay for the cost of the meals!

Your donations are welcomed!

Rotary Club

About Us

"The Meal Fights Hunger"

Campaign, is the community and international project of The Rotary Club of Carnegie-Collier with the goal to package and distribute fortified rice casseroles to those in need.

"The Meal Fights Hunger"

Campaign organizes and runs food packaging programs. The Meals are distributed through the network of the Greater Pittsburgh Community Food Bank.

Come join our fun and participate in an activity where thousands of people will benefit from your time and energy.

"The Meal"

Packing Event

A Packing Event is a community project. During the Event, participants will be trained and supervised in how to package the food. Training will take about ten minutes; the rest of the time will be spent packaging the food.

There is no heavy lifting. There are jobs for everyone regardless of age or ability. Some participants will be pouring the ingredients into the bags, others will be sealing the bags, runners will bring the sealed bags to people who box and palletize the finished meals.

People of all ages as well as different organizations can participate in "The Meal Fights Hunger" Campaign .

"The Meal"

Packaging meals are simple. The ingredients of rice, soy protein, dried vegetables, vitamins/minerals and chicken flavoring are a complete, nutritious meal, with packaged meals having been sent throughout the world.

There are 6 meals to a bag, and 36 bags to a box. Each box contains 216 meals totaling 285,000 meals to a container.

A typical packaging event lasts about two hours. During that time, each person normally packages around 350 meals. An event with 285 people will package 100,000 meals in two hours!

Each meal costs approximately $0.12. Packaging event hosts are asked to raise money to cover the cost of the number of meals packaged at their event. The standard donation is $25 per person at each event.
